NCAA ELIGIBILITY CENTER

POLICY FOR ACADEMIC CERTIFICATION COURSE TITLE USAGE FOR INTERNATIONAL EDUCATION
Quick Reference Guide

Purpose

The NCAA Eligibility Center conducts academic certifications based on the core courses completed within the applicable core curriculum time limitation (DI: 14.3.1.3.1, DII: 14.3.1.2.1). This document is a quick reference guide to the NCAA Eligibility Center's policies and procedures for determining which courses can be used in international year-by-year transcript-based evaluations (commonly referred to as "new model" certifications) in an international educational path.

> Note: This document is not applicable for leaving exam-based evaluations, commonly referred to as "old model" certifications.

Directions

This document should be used only when analyzing the usage of core courses completed outside of the domestic (U.S.-based) education system. The amount of credit the international certification staff will award to each core course may depend on the format in which the transcript is presented.

Course Title Usage Procedures

1. Review the "Important Information" section of the country-specific entry in the International Academic Standards for Athletics Eligibility Guide (International Guide) to determine if the course title has been specifically reviewed for the country in question. If it has, the title will show as either "approved for use" or "denied for use" in academic certifications, as indicated in options A and B below. However, please note that many countries will not have course titles referenced in this section, thus follow option C, below.

   a. Approved for use.
   If the specific course title is listed in the "Important Information" section as "approved for usage" in the country (and state/province, if applicable), the course may be entered in to the academic certification, provided it is not considered duplicative with another course taken within the core-curriculum time limitation.

      » Duplicative coursework procedures can be found here.

   b. Denied for use.
   If the specific course title is listed in the "Important Information" section as "denied for usage", the course cannot be used in the certification. This means that the title, while common in the country, has been reviewed and the content has been found to be "not core" per the core-curriculum requirements (DI: 14.3.1.2, DII: 14.3.1.3).
